17th Oregon Leadership Summit
Monday, December 16, 2019
Oregon Convention Center

TWO WEEKS OUT FROM LEADERSHIP SUMMIT SUMMARY AGENDA AVAILABLE ONLINE

The summary agenda for this year's Leadership Summit is now available online. As in years past, this Summit promises an impressive lineup of business and public leaders engaged in the issues that will define Oregon in the coming decade and beyond.

We'll hear from Governor Kate Brown as well as members of our Congressional delegation, state legislative leaders, and business and civic leaders working on everything from education to trade to breakthrough technologies to regional economic priorities.

The day's events include a look at key questions for long-range economic development, an assessment of Oregon's economic progress, and discussions of how we can best tackle such issues as economic opportunity, housing, health care, wildfire, carbon reduction, and electric mobility. Segments include interviews, panels, TED-style talks, and breakout sessions.

THIS YEAR'S SUMMIT STRESSES THE LONG GAME

The Leadership Summit returns to a strong focus on economic development. It asks, how can we shape our economic strategy for the long term to lift up all Oregonians and support strong, healthy communities? In particular, how can we navigate large trends shaping our economy and lives? These include changing demographics, growth in global markets, accelerating technologies, and a warming planet. How do we position our enterprises and policies to deal with these challenges and opportunities? In doing so, how can we make sure that opportunity and prosperity are shared among Oregonians more broadly and inclusively?

Please join Oregon business, public, and thought leaders in this important dialogue, and its implications for such policy issues as education, health care, natural resources, poverty, housing, and other topics.

Onsite Registration/Check-in, 7:30 a.m.
